Your chance to win!

Enter the competition for a name for our think tank/network.

Closes 9am Monday 6 December.

Put your name, with your email address and phone number in the yellow box.

Head to: http://aidhub.wordpress.com for more info.

STRUCTURE: a network, run predominantly on volunteerism, individual donations or contributions in kind.

VISION: New Zealand aid and development work makes a marked contribution to eliminating poverty and achieving social justice, prosperity and wellbeing for all, particularly in the Pacific.

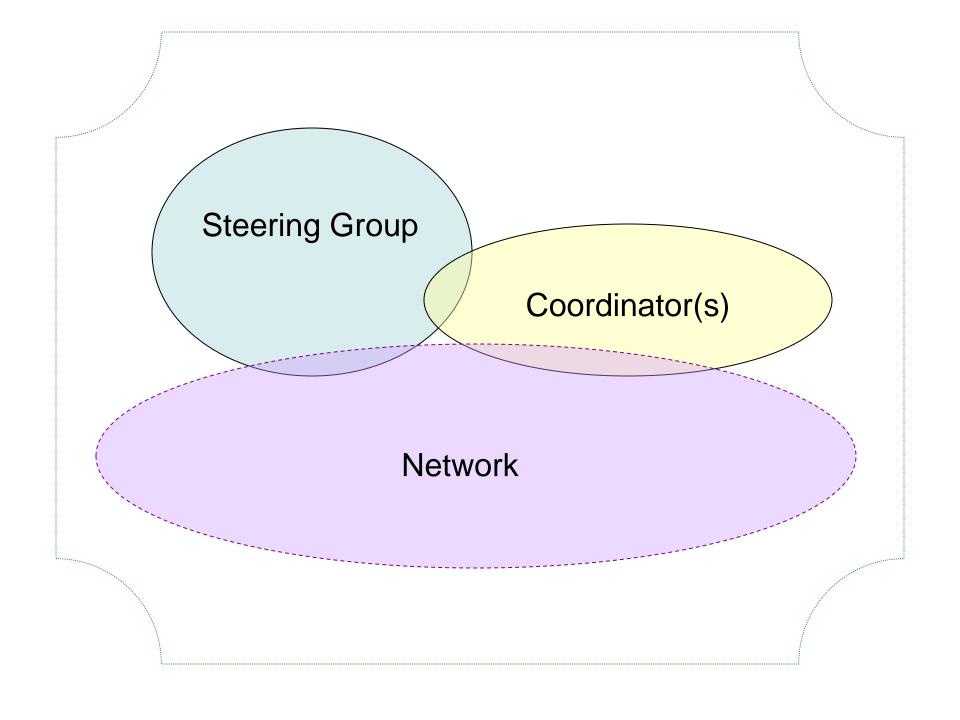

AIM: expand analysis, understanding and open discussion of New Zealand's aid and development work.

Principles / Values

- Participation and transparency
- Intellectual independence and critical dialogue
- Funding from sources that do not undermine the above
- The point of international development is to eliminate poverty and suffering, and expand people's opportunities and rights.
- Not aligned with any political party.
- Volunteerism

Key Activities

- Produce and disseminate research on NZ aid and development work.
- 2. Host occasional fora, meetings, speakers, debates etc.
- Website
- 4. Media engagement.

Your Opportunity...

We need Steering Group members:

- o Individuals (no need to represent an organisation)
- o Can achieve something towards activities of the network.
- o Can commit to being active member of Steering Group.

We need one-two Coordinators

- Can commit voluntary time to ensure the network's activities are undertaken.
- Ability to organise self and others, reach-out and engage, can write, commitment to principles and vision of network.

CONTACTS

http://aidhub.wordpress.com

Joanna Spratt: josprattnz@gmail.com