

ELEPHANTS IN THE PACIFIC?
OR
THE FUTURE IS URBAN. REALLY?
EVEN IN THE PACIFIC? SO WHAT?

“During the past few years the South Pacific territories have undergone rapid and large-scale urbanization. A steady stream of migrants has been flowing from the rural areas into towns that are, for the most part, ill equipped to absorb the newcomers, to house them and to provide them with the basic necessities of life.”

(South Pacific Commission, Regional Seminar on Health and Social Planning and Urbanization, 1970, p. i)
